

Jornada Peruana – Speakers

Juan Carlos Gamarra Skeels, Ambassador of Peru to Switzerland. He graduated in International Relations from the Academia Diplomática del Perú (1975), and obtained a Master in International Public Policy at the School of Advanced International Studies-SAIS, Johns Hopkins University, Washington (1986). Between 1979 and 2009, he held different positions in the Ministry of Foreign Relations in Lima and various diplomatic positions in the USA, Uruguay, Spain, Rumania and Belgium. He was promoted to Ambassador in 2007. He has lectured at the Academia Diplomática del Perú (1990), at the Universidad Católica del Perú, and at the Escuela Superior de Guerra Naval (1991).
info@embaperu.ch

Yvette Sánchez, Director of the Centre for Latin American Studies (CLS-HSG) and Full Professor of Hispanic Cultures and Literatures at the University of St.Gallen. Prof. Sánchez is engaged in several research projects on Latin American topics, especially on US Latinos. She basically attempts to bridge the gap between cultural studies and social sciences. In the field of cross-cultural training and research, she is currently preparing, together with her HSG colleagues, a manual on Intercultural Management and Marketing in the BRIC states.
Yvette.Sanchez@unisg.ch

Daniel Ott, Project Coordinator at EMPA and Manager of e-waste projects. He holds a degree in environmental engineering from the ETH Zurich, where he focused on water systems and waste management. In 2005, he worked with the Regional Network for Water and Sanitation in Central America (RRAS-CA) on projects on drinking water for rural regions of Honduras. In 2006, he finished his thesis "Supply and Demand of Secondary Mineral Sources in Medellín – Colombia" in the field of construction and demolition waste with EMPA and the Centro Nacional de Producción Más Limpia. Daniel.Ott@empa.ch

Jorge Mogrovejo holds a Master's Degree in Economic Policy Management from Columbia University in New York, and two degrees from the Peruvian Catholic University, in Law and Economics respectively. He is currently a Senior Financial Sector Specialist at the Financial Stability Institute, Bank for International Settlements BIS in Basel Switzerland. Prior to joining the BIS, Mr Mogrovejo worked as a financial supervisor in the Peruvian Banking and Insurance Authority, for more than 18 years in different positions, in the end as Deputy Superintendent of Risk Supervision. He was also a Member of the Board at the Peruvian Securities Authority. Jorge.Mogrovejo@bis.org

Dr. Michael Stocker holds a PhD in Economics from the University of St.Gallen, and a CEMS Master. He has lived and worked in Latin America for 20 years, and since 2008 has lived in Peru. After holding several executive positions in different countries in Latin America he founded the Stocker Group in 2004, a consulting and technology company with offices in Peru, Chile, Colombia, Panama and Switzerland. Apart from its core business, the Stocker Group is involved in several companies in Peru and Latin America, mainly in the mining, construction and tech sector. The IDB, UNIDO, SECO, IFC, OAS and several local Governments in Latin America have retained Michael Stocker as an adviser and consultant. MStocker@stockergroup.com

Raúl Matta (Lima, Peru) obtained a PhD in Sociology in November 2009 from the University of Paris III-Sorbonne Nouvelle (IHEAL). He is currently a research associate at the Research Unit 208 (Local Heritage) of the Institut de Recherche pour le Développement/Muséum National d'Histoire Naturelle (Paris). Since 2010, in the course of post-doctoral research carried out at the Free University of Berlin, he began working on food as cultural heritage. His research interests, on which he has published journal articles and book chapters, include food, popular music, intangible heritage, and urban sociology. Matta_Raul@yahoo.com

Sebastian Chávez Wurm (Münster, Germany) earned an MA from the Institute for Latin American Studies (Free University of Berlin) and holds a PhD from Hamburg University (Department of Latin American and Iberian History). Mr Chávez was a scholar of the Friedrich Ebert Foundation as well as a Marie Curie fellow. His academic focus lies on the internal structures and development of violent organizations, and he has conducted extensive field work in the Basque Country and Peru. His recent publications include a book and an article on the Shining Path of Peru (2011 and 2012). Mr Chávez worked at the Social Science Research Center Berlin and is currently working as a consultant at KPMG. SchavezWurm@kpmg.com

Gustavo Nanez is Gustavo Delux. He was born in Lima and grew up in Ciudad de Dios. He first studied aircraft mechanics as well as classical guitar at the Johann Sebastian Bach Music Academy in Lima, and he completed a drama course at the Universidad Católica (Peru). He has been living in Zurich since 1991, when he completed a vocal and percussion training, working also as theater-maker and songwriter for dance and film. He founded the theatre music formation Kolypan and produced his own pieces for children and young people, also two solo albums, Píntame la casa (released at the Stadtsommer) and No me apagues la Radio, sponsored by Pro Helvetia. Los Cojones Muertos is a loop-performance inspired by Afro-Peruvian rhythms and slam poetry. Gustavo_Nanez@yahoo.es

Ana Cangahuala Janampa completed a doctorate at TU Darmstadt in the faculty of Civil Engineering. She worked in the construction and water sectors in Peru, Mexico and Spain, focusing on science, business and cooperation development. Ms Cangahuala is a Senior researcher at the Institute IWAR in the Department of Water Supply and Groundwater Protection leading the group "Water Loss and Energy Efficiency" and coordinating the work group "Water and International Development". She is active in the development of water management and energy efficiency projects exploring strategies to reduce technical and economic water loss with a special focus on Latin America. A.Cangahuala@iwar.tu-darmstadt.de

Paula Castro (Lima, Peru) is currently a Post-Doctoral researcher at the Department of Political Science of the University of Zurich, where she finished her PhD in 2011. Ms Castro works on international climate policy, with a focus on the role of existing- and new-market mechanisms in climate change mitigation, and on the role of institutions and bargaining strategies in the international negotiations towards a new climate regime. An environmental engineer from the National Agrarian University La Molina (Peru) with a M.Sc. in Environment and Development from the University of Reading (UK), she worked previously as a researcher with the National Agrarian University and the British NGO Practical Action, analysing the introduction of biofuels in Peru. Castro@pw.uzh.ch

John Tobin de la Puente is a Managing Director of Credit Suisse AG, based in Zurich. Global Head of Sustainability Affairs, responsible for managing environmental and social matters at the bank. Prior to his current function, he was dealing with legal aspects Credit Suisse's emerging markets business with a focus on Latin America in the Legal and Compliance Department in New York. He held former positions as corporate attorney focusing on cross-border financial transactions at Clifford Chance and Davis Polk & Wardwell in New York. Mr Tobin holds a Ph.D. in Evolutionary Biology from Harvard University as well as a J.D. from Harvard Law School. He obtained his B.S. in Biology from the UCLA. Several appointments as Treasurer of the American Institute of Biological Sciences, as member of the board of directors of the Organization for Tropical Studies, of the Private Sector Advisory Group of the United Nations International Strategy for Disaster Reduction (UNISDR), and of the Environment and Energy Commission of the International Chamber of Commerce. John.Tobin@credit-suisse.com

Christian Steinemann is an entrepreneur and consultant, with expertise on Latin American affairs and profound knowledge of Latin American markets (Finance Industry, IT for the Finance Industry, commerce and trade, agriculture). He is Peruvian and Swiss, grew up in Peru and Brasil, and holds Degrees in Economics and Political Science from the University of St.Gallen. Steinem@steinem.com

Jorge Marthaler (Lima) is executive manager of Makumayu Ltda. Co., an enterprise that he founded in 2010 to launch international commerce with Alpaca-wool textiles. He previously interned at L'Oréal Suisse SA in Neuenhof, Switzerland. Mr Marthaler is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Marketing Services and Communication Management at the University of St.Gallen, focusing on customer value for the retail business. In 2011 he participated in an educational exchange program at the Universidad del Pacífico in Lima, after having received his Bachelor degree in Business Administration with a focus on marketing in 2010 at the University of St.Gallen. Jorge.Marthaler@student.unisg.ch

Ulrich Frei has been the Executive Director of FUNDES International, based in Costa Rica, since 2008. He graduated with a Master's Degree in Pharmacy from the Ecole Suisse de Droguerie and an MBA from IMD in Lausanne. He has considerable management experience and has held senior management positions, for instance with the Química Suiza S.A, Novartis A.G. and CIBA-GEIGY A.G., working in Peru, Venezuela, Chile, Indonesia and Hong Kong. Before that, Mr. Frei had been the general manager of SENN CHEMICALS AG in Switzerland, where he led operations, including subsidiaries in France and the USA. UFrei@fundes.org

Philippe G. Nell, Minister, Head of Americas Unit, State Secretariat for Economic Affairs, Bern. He is in charge of trade and investment issues that concern Swiss firms across the Americas and has published several articles on Swiss economic integration policy and specific WTO negotiations. He is the editor of the yearly Swiss – Latin America Economic Relations Report (SECO) and a lecturer at the European Institute of the University of Basel, at the University of Fribourg and for select MBA programs. Philippe.Nell@seco.admin.ch

