

Venezuelan Migration in Latin America: Integration Challenges and Opportunities

Speakers & moderators

Vanessa Boanada Fuchs is Director of GIMLA (St.Gallen Institute of Management in Latin America) with offices in São Paulo and Medellín. She holds a degree in Law and International Relations from PUC-Rio and a PhD in International Development Studies from the Graduate Institute of Geneva (IHEID). Subsequently, Vanessa spent time as a postdoctoral researcher and visiting researcher at the University of Campinas, Michigan State University and Freie Universität Berlin, respectively. Prior to her appointment as director of GIMLA, she contributed to the creation and coordination of the Swiss School of Latin American Studies (SSLAS) and acted as project manager for the Leading House for the Latin American Region.

vanessa.boanada@unisg.ch

Juan Fernando Palacio Roldán is a professor of Management Communication, Negotiation and Global Affairs at the University of Antioquia. He is an economist and specialist in political studies from Universidad EAFIT and holds a PhD in Organizational Studies and Cultural Theory from the University of St. Gallen, Switzerland. He has been teaching courses on negotiation, diplomacy and international relations at Universidad EAFIT, Universidad de Caldas, Universidad Externado de Colombia, Universidad de Antioquia, and has been visiting professor at Universität Regensburg in Germany and University of Miskolc in Hungary. His academic research focuses on multilateral diplomacy, Colombian foreign policy, Latin American integration, among others.

jfernando.palacio@udea.edu.co

Omid Alizadeh Afrouzi is a program manager and researcher at Swiss-Latin American Center at University of St.Gallen (CLS-HSG), Switzerland. He holds a PhD in Organizational Studies and Cultural Theory from the University of St. Gallen. His research interests include media psychology, migration studies, humanitarian communication and persuasive communication. He is a senior news editor, reporter, and producer with a professional experience of a decade.

omid.alizadehafrouzi@unisg.ch

Irulú Labarca León holds a PhD from the University of Málaga, Spain. She is a Colombo-Venezuelan entrepreneur since 2016 and is the president of the NGO Emprecolven, which supports Colombian-Venezuelan entrepreneurs in Medellín. She is the writer of "Emprender desde Cero" and, the recently published book, "Conecta con tu Pasión antes de Emprender". She has taught Entrepreneurship in Venezuela for 15 years.

irululabarca@hotmail.com

Marina Silveira is a researcher in the CNPq research group "Economic & Migratory Movements (MEMI)" at the University of São Paulo. She is Graduated in Law from the Pontifical Catholic University of São Paulo (2013), and has a Master of Law from the University of São Paulo at Ribeirão Preto Law School (FDRP / USP) (2019), with the dissertation "Borders and indigenous mobility: the veto of the free movement of the new migration law and the Warao people".

marinasilveira@alumni.usp.br

Rocío Robinson is the Senior Program Manager of the innovation-based instruments at the Leading House for the Latin American Region and the AIT Startups (Switzerland, Brazil, Colombia, and Mexico). She is also the Academic Program Manager of the Swiss School of Latin American Studies (SSLAS) and a lecturer at the University of St.Gallen. Rocío completed a BA in Political Science at Smith College in Massachusetts and also studied International Relations at the Graduate Institute in Geneva. She earned an MSc in Comparative Politics at the London School of Economics (LSE) and did her PhD at the University of St.Gallen. Professionally, Rocío has worked in New York City in different industries tied to Latin America and Emerging Markets, and worked in Sierra Leone for an NGO as well as at UBS Wealth Management International in Zürich, Switzerland.

rocio.robinson@unisg.ch